Plot showing power gain as a function of interference slit count, shown for multiple starting coherence values